HAVE AN AMUSEMENT PARK ALL TO YOURSELF.

(Except for a couple of rats.)

Step right up to the NES™ ride of your life when the Toonsters take on the world's wackiest fun park in Tiny Toon Adventures™2 - Trouble in Wackyland™.

Montana Max and his rodent warriors have heaps of trouble planned for our pals. See if you can stomach all 5 unique arcade adventure games. Babs Bunny goes over the edge on the perilous Roller Coaster. Plucky Duck is at the wheel of the b-b-b-bumpy Bumper Cars. Hamton squeals in panic on the Wild Western Train Ride. Furrball clings for all nine lives on the High Speed Log Ride. Worst yet, Buster is ready to pull his hare out in the topsy turvy Fun House Maze, where that carnival creep Montana Max awaits.

You've got your ticket to the weirdest amusement park you'll ever see. Head for the front gates! And don't forget your rat repellent.

Editor's NOTEBOOK

Dear Archie Readers,

Last July, Archie Comics released a 64 page special entitled "TEENAGE MUTANT NINJATURTLES MEET THE CONSERVATION CORPS". Needless to say, THE CONSERVATION CORPS received a really great response from our readers. In order to address this overwhelming response, Archie Comics has decided to bring back these environmental crusaders in their own three issue mini-series.

For those of you who missed The Conservation Corps' debut last July, here's some background.....

The Conservation Corps is a new breed of environmental heroes who are funny, adventurous and, above all, entertaining. When we last left our heroes, they were searching for their fifth member, whom they've never met. Will his/her identity be revealed in this brand new mini-series? There's only one way to find out... don't miss a single issue! On sale June, 1993.

Now onto a very important subject... Jughead's new brother or sister. As you already know, issue #50 of JUGHEAD will reveal whether the new sibling to arrive at the Jones' is going to be a boy or a girl. If your family has gone through this experience, then you know what comes next... a NAME! I'd like you to help Jughead's family decide on the baby's name. Here's all you have to do. Come up with two lists of names (boy list and girl list) that you think should be given to Jughead's brother c. sister. Send your lists to:

OZONE

The ozone layer is a shield between the earth's atmosphere and the sun, protecting us against ultraviolet (UV) rays. Unfortunately there is a hole in the ozone layer which is getting larger every year, letting too much UV light through. Too much UV light can cause skin cancer, eye damage and a breakdown of the body's immune system. UV rays can also destroy cropfields. We are causing the hole in the ozone layer by using chlorofluorocarbons which come from air conditioners, aerosol cans, cleaning agents and the manufacture of plastics. Many products are manufactured without chlorofluorocarbons. Look for these products, and help save the ozone layer from further damage.

IT'S AN EVOLUTION REVOLUTION!

Joe & Mac's country cousin comes to the Super Nintendo!

If you were a monkey, just hangin' out in the jungle with your chimp-chick, and a magic ruby fell out of the sky and zapped you both, turning you into half-humans, and a demon-kid swooped down and made off with your girl — what would you do? You'd high-tail it after them and stop at nothing to save her, that's what — 'cause you're Congo, the monkey-turned-superkid, and only you can uphold the law of the jungle! But it's more than a jungle out there — your search for little Congette will take you from ghost towns to pirate ships to ninja castles to the belly of a Tyrannosaurus. This is no time for a banana-break — you'd better get down to monkey business!

Jughead's

MAIL BOX

HEY, YOU READERS OUT THERE!

You sure have been supportive of Jughead's new Baby Challenge! Here are some of your letters:

Dear Jughead,

My youngest brother is only 2 months old, so I can relate to how you feel. Having a baby can be fun if you're happy about it from the beginning, but if you're against it, all you'll remember is the stuff that nobody wants to do like changing diapers and getting up in the middle of the night to feed him or her. If you're glad, you'll remember all the cute smiles he/she'll give you, and all the love he/she will have for you. Having a baby brother or sister might be the best thing that ever happened to you. Sure, you'll have to change your life-style a little, but it will be worth it. New babies are always fun to have around. When you hold the baby and he/she's so little, so helpless, you just can't help but love him/her. Believe me, I know! I hope you have fun with the baby. I'm sure he/she will love you when he/she grows up. — Aaronne Kessler, Lakeshore, CA

Dear Jughead,

You're still going to be the apple of your folks' eyes. It's just that someone new is going to share it. You'll be the one to teach your new brother or sister all you know. It might be hard at first to think of having a baby in the family, but after a while you and your parents will share the joy of a baby. I'm sure you'll do fine! You're a great guy! — Adrienne Grunwald, Marlboro, NJ

Dear Jughead,

Watch out! Big Ethel might go to your house as an excuse to see the baby! But there are a few good things:

- 1) The baby might not look like you (joke).
- 2) You can name the baby "Hamburger".
- 3) You might like the baby's formula (I probably tastes better than Veronica's cooking).
- 4) If you want free food, take the baby along. Claim he's hungry and you need food for him or her. By the way, Jughead, please keep your hat in a high place or, the baby might eat it! Also, don't let Dilton find a cure for big appetites! — Naomi Eirin, Riverdale, NY

Dear Jughead,

Don't volunteer to baby-sit. Whatever you do, don't baby-sit. I have to baby-sit a three year old brat once in a while and boy, do I get stressed out. Good Luck being a big brother.

— Rebecca Klauss, Fox Lake, IL

Dear Jughead,

I can't tell you how to be a big brother. I'm an only child myself. If I was going to be a new brother, I'd be nervous too. But your parents still love you. Another thing, whatever happens, I repeat, do NOT let your parents get rid of Hot Dog for the baby.

— Claire Doughty, Topeka, KS

Dear Jughead,

I think that having a brother or sister can be fun. I have two other sisters so consider yourself lucky. You will like feeling older than your brother or sister because you can order him/her around or have a pal when you're feeling down. Good Luck!

— Yuzana Sheriff, Bangkok, Thailand

Dear Jughead,

Being a big brother isn't so bad. I've been a big sister seven times! I have two brothers and five sisters, and last month my parents informed me that there's another one coming! That'll make nine children in the family! Don't panic. It's not as bad as it sounds. We have a lot of fun together and one thing's for sure. We never get lonely. Anyway, don't worry about the age difference. I'll be seventeen when the next one is born. It really isn't difficult to be a big brother or sister. For the first while the kid can't do anything anyway. It mainly sleeps at first. And don't worry that your parents won't love you as much. They'll try even harder to make you feel better and know that they still love you. The best way to teach the baby about life is to be an example, but be yourself too. The baby will look up to you because you're the big brother. I know.

— Yours truly, Elizabeth Halpenny, Nova Scotia, Canada.

Dear Jughead,

This might be kind of long, but.. what the hay. I have a little sister. When she was born, I thought she was so cute. Of course I was scared she'd hog most of the attention, and to tell you the truth, she did. At her birthday party I'd want all her toys and I'd try to steal all of her friends away. (I was being a brat, I admit, but no one's perfect.) So anyway my mom said that I could have a toy every time my sister has a birthday, so we'd both feel special. That works out pretty good. And on my birthday my sister gets a toy. We also share friends, clothes, and secrets. We're pals, and that's the most important thing to be, a friend. Good Luck!

— Gretchie Kale, Berkeley, CA

Dear Readers!

You kids have sure been great giving me support and encouragement about this new baby deal! I really appreciate it! This page will be a special in every JUGHEAD book, so let me hear it: Your stories, poems, comments about my book, anything in the whole world! I'll try to print as many of your letters as I can!
